

HANNA ASKS CONNALL TO TELL ALL

TARDIEU FALL PUTS HALT ON NAVAL MEET

President Doumergue Says 24 Hours Will Be Needed To Form Cabinet.

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
PARIS, Feb. 18.—It will be another 24 hours before President
Gaston Doumergue will be in a position to decide who shall be asked to form a new government,
the French president declared today.

Emerging from the presidential palace after conferring with Fern-
and Bouisson, president of the chamber of deputies, the president
made the following statement:

DECISION WEDNESDAY
"We do not expect to reach any decision until tomorrow."

The greatest importance is attached here to the conference
which the president will hold with former Premier Poincare this afternoon.

There is much speculation as to whether the visit will result in M.
Doumergue asking M. Poincare to attempt to form a new government,
or whether he will merely consult
with him in an advisory capacity.
Doumergue today began consultations with leaders of the various French political parties in an effort to bring about the formation
of a new government to succeed
the fallen ministry of Andre Tar-
dieu as soon as possible.

Tardieu's sudden fall from power,
coming as it did with the London naval arms conference at a
crucial stage of its negotiations,
was regarded today as particularly
inopportune.

The usual political jockeying accompanying the formation of a new French cabinet will be gone through and this will delay the conference negotiations, although it is unlikely there will be any change in the French attitude
at the conference.

All French political parties are
in complete accord with the policy
followed by Tardieu in the disarmament parley and regardless
of whether or not Tardieu himself
will be asked to form another cabinet, his original naval views will
be adhered to.

As a matter of fact, Tardieu's
prestige can hardly be said to be dimmed by his government's defeat yesterday by a scant five votes on the question of augmenting pensions for widows of officers and soldiers who lost their lives in the World War.

MAY ASK TARDIEU
President Doumergue himself is said to be in favor of immediately
asking the former premier to form another government. This cannot be done because custom demands that the leaders of those parties causing the overthrow of a cabinet must first be consulted.

This brings to the fore the names of Camille Chautemps and Senator Etienne Clementel. The former is the leader of the radical socialist party which was directly responsible for the overthrow of the Tardieu cabinet. The latter failed in an effort to form a government just before Tardieu succeeded about three months ago.

It is not regarded likely that either would succeed in finding enough support to entertain hopes
of forming a new government.

The horizon is therefore dominated by Tardieu, Aristide Briand,
foreign minister in the deposed
cabinet, and former Premier Poin-
care who resigned because of ill-health last fall but who is now
reported to have cancelled his plans for a trip to South America, a fact regarded significantly in view of the recent turn of events.

HI-Y CLUBS TO HAVE BANQUET

E. V. Donaldson, Columbus,
Head of Y. M. C. A. Boys'
Work To Be Speaker.

The members of the Circleville
high school Hi-Y club and Washington C. H. high school Hi-
Y club will meet at the Episcopal church Tuesday evening where a banquet will be held.

E. V. Donaldson, in charge of Ohio boys' Y. M. C. A. work, will be the speaker of the evening.

William Crist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Crist, is confined to his bed with a severe cold.

Rumanian War Hero Wounded in Riot

General Averescu, commander of the Rumanian forces in the World War and twice Premier of his country, who is reported wounded
in a political demonstration against the Peasant Party regime of Premier Maniu. Although the latter enjoys a popular majority,
the opposition, led by General
Averescu, is making a strong attack upon the existing government
by virtue of the control which they exercise over the country's wealth.

GENNAS TAKEN IN GANG WAR

Survivors of Gang Famous In Chicago Killed in Clashes
of Law.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Pete and
Sam Genna, two survivors of the notorious Genna gang that has played an important role in Chicago's crime history, today were
the latest suspects to be jailed in
the wholesale hoodlum roundup
that has netted 3,000 hoodlums.

They were taken in a raid on
an apartment building which police assert has become the headquarters for an alcohol ring which
the Gennas are suspected of heading. Three others were arrested
with the pair.

Pete, Sam and Jim Genna are
the survivors of six brothers. The other three were slain at various periods in gang history.

Last week's crime drive netted
103 gun toters among the riff-raff
of hoodlums, alien gangsters and holdupmen, police announced.
Twenty-nine of these have been indicted for gun carrying. More than 1,500 prisoners were taken over the week-end alone.

LOCAL WOMAN ASKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Simison Says Husband
Has Failed To Provide
Since Marriage.

Charging gross neglect of duty
and failure to provide, Bessie L.
Simison, of Circleville, through her attorney, M. C. Seyfert, Jr., filed suit for divorce in common
pleas court Tuesday from John P.
Simison, of Greensville.

The petition says the couple was married in 1921 and has one child,
John T. aged 5, for whose support
the defendant has failed to provide. The petition says that the defendant has failed to provide a home for his wife and that she has been forced to reside with her mother in Circleville.
She asks divorce, alimony and
custody.

ASK FORECLOSURE

A foreclosure of mortgage was in common pleas court by Arthur Morris against L. J.
Jones Mary E. Hedges. The Ashley Banking Co. and Alfred Lee F. Snyder is the attorney for plaintiff.

JOHNSON ESTATE

An inventory in the estate of the late Melissa May Johnson filed in probate court values the estate at $500. Charles Dresbach was named administrator and furnished bond.

YOUTHS GIVEN TERMS AFTER GUILTY PLEAS

Brungs, Stevens and Hoffman
Go To B. I. S.—Other
Two Go To Jail.

The five Circleville youths whose arrests late Saturday and early Sunday are thought to have put an end to the minor chicken thefts
which have been going on here
since the first of the year were given hearings Monday afternoon
and after pleading guilty to the charge of theft were sentenced.

The youths who were arrested
after an investigation by police,
probation officers and the sheriff's office were Fred Brungs, 18; Alvin
Davis, 19; Lester Hawk, 18;
Ralph Hoffman, 15, and Edgar Stevens, 13.

BLAME BRUNGS

Brungs who was said by the
other four boys to be the ring-
leader of the gang, and the lad
who stole nearly all the chickens
while the other boys gave him aid
was a ward of the juvenile court
and was sentenced to the Boys'
Industrial school by Judge E. A.
Brown for an indefinite period.
Stevens and Hoffman are also
wards of the court and were each given the same sentence. Brungs
was handed. All three of the boys were taken to the industrial school
by Probation Officer J. M. Brown.

Lester Hawk and Alvin Davis
were arraigned before Mayor E.
T. Hedges Monday afternoon and all pleaded guilty to charge.

Hawk was sentenced to serve 30
days in the county jail and Davis
was given a 30 day term in the Cincinnati workhouse. Davis was to be taken to the workhouse by Officer J. M. Brown Tuesday.

The arrest of the five youths
came about between the hours of 7:30 p. m. Saturday and 12:30 a.
m. Sunday following the sale of four chickens by Davis to the Circleville Produce Co. Authorities
had notified Wayne Leist, manager
of the produce company, that if any suspicious person tried to sell chickens to notify officers. When Davis sold the four chickens and
went right outside and handed a part of the money over to Brungs.
Leist knew something was wrong
and notified Officer McCrady who
with other officers made a round of the town until they apprehended Brungs and Davis. Brungs was in a local restaurant and Davis had just entered a theatre.

DAVIS TALKS
Davis at once admitted the
thefts but Brungs became defiant
and would not admit the theft of any chickens.

After extensive questioning the
two boys said the other three Hawk, Stevens and Hoffman were also in the crowd and these boys
were arrested.

They then told all that they
knew of the thefts and admitted
stealing chickens from Mrs. Trimmer, E. Munst, Henry Rothman,
S. Pickaway, Jacob Topolosky,
E. Frankins, E. J. Mason, Watt-son, and Dr. H. C. Allen, S. Court-
st. Four dead chickens were found in the rear of the R. L.
Brehmer garage which were believed to have been stolen from
R. R. Bales Friday night.

AGED JANITOR BREAKS ARM

George Rettig, Aged 78, Falls
To Pavement At Main
and Court Sts.

George Rettig, aged 78, janitor
at the Southern Ohio Electric Co.,
on E. Main-st. suffered a fracture
of the left arm when he fell at the intersection of Main and Court-sts.
He was removed to the office of
Dr. Howard Jones by Russell Imler and given a local treatment.
He was later removed to his home.

HAS OPERATION

John Hedges, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hedges, underwent an appendectomy operation at Mt.
Carmel hospital Friday and is reported to be in good condition.
Dr. H. D. Jackson was his physician.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Russell Kneese, 25, Circleville,
laborer and Esther Martin, 20, Circleville, Rev. E. O. Ferguson, minister.

JAILED

Fred Dunn, alleged Sioux City, Ia., bank robber, and Alice Martin, 20, said to be wanted in a South Dakota bank holdup, landed in police hands as they alighted from a bus in Chicago. Dunn had a gun and tried to draw it, police say.

HERALD CAMPAIGN INTEREST GROWING HOURLY IN COUNTY

Real Reward For Hustling Workers Here—New Idea of Optional Awards Make Proposition Attractive—Now
Is the Time To Get Started In Great Drive For Subscriptions—Send or Bring Your Name
At Once.

Monday the big surprise of the season was handed the people of Pickaway county and surrounding territory when the announcement of The Circleville Herald's Great $3,000 Prize Campaign was made and it was read with more than ordinary interest. Much favorable comment was heard and many are the inquiries regarding the many different phases of the proposition are heard on every hand.

"Who are to be the participants?" is the big question
right now, but that many live and energetic men and women will enroll in the big race is assured. The Herald will not make any announcement of the "candidates" until next week,
possibly next Tuesday, for by that time the entire territory will have been heard from and all can start on an even basis.
All must start on an even keel, and when all nominations are in, a complete list of those entered with the credits of each will be published. In the meantime, interested parties will do well to send in their name and get started in the big race for a prize. The early entrants are usually the most successful, so right now during the next few days while the field is fresh, is the time to begin your entry for subscriptions to The Herald while TRIPLE votes are obtainable.

When it is considered that over $3,000 in valuable prizes
and cash commissions will be given away absolutely free to ambitious citizens of Circleville and Pickaway county it will be quickly seen that it is indeed the long looked for (OLDEN) OPPORTUNITY of a lifetime. It's quite the biggest thing that has ever happened to this community. When a person will actually give away two automobiles, furniture, jewelry and cold cash to its friends, a little of the reason for it is most readily an opportunity to get ahead in the world, and not a few of the best people in the community will be interested. In order to share in the awards to be given it is necessary for the participants to subscribe to The Herald.
Selling subscriptions will prove a very pleasant occupation at all times. Just stop the minute of the proposition grand and you will not be disappointed. Several costly prizes will be given to the whole proposition is a paid a cash commission of you cannot lose. It's a ambitious people of the community.

Remember that every subscription to The Herald during the greatest campaign of the second half of the year will earn a cash prize. The first prize is a new automobile.

TARDIEU FALL PUTS HALT ON NAVAL MEET

President Doumergue Says 24 Hours Will Be Needed To Form Cabinet.

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
PARIS, Feb. 18.—It will be another 24 hours before President
Gaston Doumergue will be in a position to decide who shall be
asked to form a new government
to succeed that of Andre Tardieu,
the French president declared today.

Emerging from the presidential palace after conferring with Fern-
and Bouisson, president of the chamber of deputies, the president
made the following statement:

DECISION WEDNESDAY
"We do not expect to reach any
decision until tomorrow."

The greatest importance is attached here to the conference
which the president will hold with former Premier Poincare this afternoon.

There is much speculation as to whether the visit will result in M.
Doumergue asking M. Poincare to attempt to form a new government
or whether he will merely consult
with him in an advisory capacity.

Doumergue today began consultations with leaders of the various French political parties in an effort to bring about the formation
of a new government to succeed
the fallen ministry of Andre Tar-
dieu as soon as possible.

Tardieu's sudden fall from power, coming as it did with the London naval arms conference at a
crucial stage of its negotiations,
was regarded today as particularly
inopportune.

The usual political jockeying accompanying the formation of all new French cabinets will be gone through and this will de-
lay the conference negotiations, although it is unlikely there will be any change in the French attitude at the conference.

All French political parties are
in complete accord with the policy
followed by Tardieu in the disarmament parley and regardless
of whether or not Tardieu himself
will be asked to form another cabinet, his original naval views will
be adhered to.

As a matter of fact Tardieu's
prestige can hardly be said to be
dimmed by his government's defeat yesterday by a scant five
votes on the question of augmented pensions for widows of officers
and soldiers who lost their lives
in the World war.

President Doumergue himself is said to be in favor of immediately
asking the former premier to
form another government. This cannot be done because custom demands that the leaders of those
parties causing the overthrow of a
cabinet must first be consulted.

This brings to the fore the names of Camille Chautemps and Senator Etienne Clementel. The former is the leader of the radical socialist party which was directly responsible for the overthrow of the Tardieu cabinet. The latter failed in an effort to form a government just three months ago.

It is not regarded likely that
either would succeed in finding
enough support to entertain hopes
of forming a new government.

The horizon is therefore domi-
nated by Tardieu, Aristide Briand,
foreign minister in the deposed
cabinet, and former Premier Poin-
care who resigned because of ill-
health last fall but who is now
reported to have cancelled his
plans for a trip to South America, a fact regarded significantly
in view of the recent turn of
events.

HI-Y CLUBS TO HAVE BANQUET

E. V. Donaldson, Columbus,
Head of Y. M. C. A. Boys'
Work To Be Speaker.

The members of the Circleville
high school Hi-Y club and the Washington C. H. high school Hi-
Y club will meet at the Episcopal church Tuesday evening where a banquet will be held.

E. V. Donaldson, in charge of Ohio boys' Y.M.C.A. work, will be
the speaker of the evening.

William Crist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Crist is confined to his bed with a severe cold.

Rumanian War Hero Wounded in Riot

General Averescu, commander of
the Rumanian forces in the World
War and twice Premier of his
country, who is reported wounded
in a political demonstration against
the Peasant Party regime of Premier Maniu. Although the
latter enjoys a popular majority,
the opposition, led by General
Averescu, is making a strong attack upon the existing government
by virtue of the control which they exercise over the country's wealth.

GENNAS TAKEN IN GANG WAR

Survivors of Gang Famous In Chicago History In Clutches
of Law.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Pete and
Sam Genna, two survivors of the
notorious Genna gang that has
played an important role in Chi-
cago's crime history, today were
the latest suspects to be jailed in
the wholesale hoodlum roundup
that has netted 5,000 hoodlums.

They were taken in a raid on
an apartment building which police assert has become the headquarters for an alcohol ring which
the Gennas are suspected of head-
ing. Three others were arrested
with the pair.

Pete, Sam and Jim Genna are
the survivors of six brothers. The other three were slain at various
periods in gang history.

Last week's crime drive netted
103 gun toters among the riff-raff
of hoodlums, aliens, gangsters and
holdupmen, police announced.
Twenty-nine of these have been
indicted for gun carrying. More
than 1500 prisoners were taken
over the week-end alone.

LOCAL WOMAN ASKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Simison Says Husband
Has Failed To Provide
Since Marriage.

Charging gross neglect of duty
and failure to provide, Bessie L.
Simison, of Circleville, through
her attorney, M. C. Seyfert, Jr.,
filed suit for divorce in common
pleas court Tuesday from John P.
Simison, of Greensville.

The petition says the couple was
married in 1921 and has one child,
John T., aged 5, for whose support
the defendant has failed to provide. The petition says that the defendant has failed to provide a residence for his wife and that she has been forced to reside with
her mother in Circleville.

She asks divorce, alimony and
custody.

ASK FORECLOSURE

A foreclosure of mortgage was filed in common pleas court by Arthur Morris against L. F.
Hedges, Mary E. Hedges, The Ash-ville Banking Co. and Alfred Lee.
I. F. Snyder is the attorney for plaintiff.

JOHNSON ESTATE

An inventory in the estate of the
late Melissa May Johnson filed in
probate court values the estate at $500. Charles Dresbach was named administrator and furnished bond.

YOUTHS GIVEN TERMS AFTER GUILTY PLEAS

Brungs, Stevens and Hoffman
Go To B. I. S.—Other
Two Go To Jail.

The five Circleville youths whose
arrests late Saturday and early Sunday are thought to have put
an end to the minor chicken thefts
which have been going on here
since the first of the year were
given hearings Monday afternoon
and after pleading guilty to the
charge of theft were sentenced.

The youths who were arrested
after an investigation by police,
probation officers and the sheriff's office were Fred Brungs, 18; Alvin
Davis, 19; Lester Hawk, 18;
Ralph Hoffman, 15, and Edgar Stevens, 13.

BLAME BRUNGS

Brungs who was said by the
other four boys to be the ring-
leader of the gang, and the lad
who stole nearly all the chickens
while the other boys gave him aid
was a ward of the juvenile court
and was sentenced to the Boys'
Industrial school by Judge E. A.
Brown for an indefinite period.
Stevens and Hoffman are also
wards of the court and were each
given the same sentence. Brungs
was handed. All three of the boys
were taken to the industrial school
by Probation Officer L. M. Brown.

Lester Hawk and Alvin Davis
were arraigned before Mayor B.
T. Hedges Monday afternoon and
all pleaded guilty to charge.

Hawk was sentenced to serve 30
days in the county jail and Davis
was given a 30 day term in the Cincinnati workhouse. Davis was
to be taken to the workhouse by Officer Wilson Monday Tuesday.

The arrest of the five youths
came about between the hours of 7:30 p. m. Saturday and 12:30 a.
m. Sunday following the sale of four chickens by Davis to the Cir-
cleville Produce Co. Authorities
had notified Wayne Leist, manager
of the produce company, that if
any suspicious person tried to sell
chickens to notify officers. When Davis sold the four chickens and
went right outside and handed a
part of the money over to Brungs,
Leist knew something was wrong
and notified Officer McCrady who
with other officers made a round of the town until they apprehended Brungs and Davis. Brungs was in a local restaurant and Davis had just entered a theatre.

DAVIS TALKS
Davis at once admitted the
thefts but Brungs became defiant
and would not admit the theft of
any chickens.

After extensive questioning the
two boys said the other three,
Hawk, Stevens and Hoffman were
also in the crowd and these boys
were arrested.

They then told all that they
knew of the thefts and admitted
stealing chickens from Mrs. Trimmer, E. Main-st; Henry Rothman,
S. Pickaway-st; Jacob Topolosky,
E. Franklin-st; Ed. Mason, Watt-st, and Dr. H. C. Allen, S. Court-
st. Four dead chickens were found in the rear of the R. L.
Brehmer garage which were believed to have been stolen from
R. R. Bales Friday night.

AGED JANITOR BREAKS ARM

George Rettig, Aged 78, Falls
To Pavement At Main
and Court Sts.

George Rettig, aged 78, janitor
at the Southern Ohio Electric Co.,
on E. Main-st suffered a fracture
of the left arm when he fell at the intersection of Main and Court-sts.
He was removed to the office of
Dr. Howard Jones by Russell Imler and given medical treatment.
He was later removed to his home.

HAS OPERATION

John Hegele, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hegele, underwent an appendicitis operation at Mt.
Carmel hospital Monday and is reported to be in good condition.
Dr. H. D. Jackson was his physician.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Russel Kneec, 25, Circleville,
laborer and Esther Martin, 20, Circleville. Rev. E. O. Ferguson, minister.

JAILED

Fred Dunn, alleged Sioux City, Ia., bank robber, and Alice Martin, 20, said to be wanted in a South Dakota bank holdup, landed in police hands as they alighted from a bus in Chicago. Dunn had a gun and tried to draw it, police say.

HERALD CAMPAIGN INTEREST GROWING HOURLY IN COUNTY

Real Reward For Hustling Workers Here—New Idea of
Optional Awards Make Proposition Attractive—Now
Is the Time To Get Started In Great Drive For Subscriptions—Send or Bring Your Name
At Once.

Monday the big surprise of the season was handed the people of Pickaway county and surrounding territory when
the announcement of The Circleville Herald's Great $3,000 Prize Campaign was made and it was read with more than ordinary interest. Much favorable comment was heard and many are the inquiries regarding the many different phases of the proposition are heard on every hand.

"Who are to be the participants?" is the big question
right now, but that many live and energetic men and women will enroll in the big race is assured. The Herald will not make any announcement of the 'candidates' until next week,
possibly next Tuesday, for by that time the entire territory
will have been heard from and all can start on an even basis.
All must start on an even keel, and when all nominations are in, a complete list of those entered with the credits of each
will be published. In the meantime, interested parties will do well to send in their name and get started in the big race for
right now during the next few days while the field is fresh, is the time to begin your canvas for subscriptions to The Herald
while TRIPLE votes are obtainable.

When it is considered that over $3,000 in valuable prizes
and cash commissions will be given away absolutely free to ambitious citizens of Circleville and Pickaway county it will be quickly seen that it is indeed the long looked for GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY of a lifetime. It's quite the biggest thing that ever happened to this community. When a paper will actually give away two automobiles, furniture, radio, jewelry and cold cash to its friends for a little of their spare time, it is most assuredly an opportunity to get ahead in the world, and not a few of the best people of the communities will be interested. In order to share richly in the awards to be given, it is necessary for the participants to devote but little of their spare time to the work of selling subscriptions to The Herald.

Selling subscriptions will prove a very pleasant occupation at all times. Just stop and think for an instant the magnitude of the proposition and the vast opportunities to be gained and you will not be long in sending in your nomination.
Several costly prizes will be given, but the best thing about the whole proposition is that if you fail for a prize, you will be paid a cash commission on all you turn in on subscriptions, so you cannot lose. It's surely worth the effort of the most ambitious people of the community.

Remember that certain credits or votes are given for every subscription to The Herald, and at the close the one having the greatest number of votes will win the $1,085 Oldsmobile, the second highest the Ford Sedan and so on. The first week or rather until Tuesday, March 4, TRIPLE votes are given for every new subscription. Read about this attractive offer in the big display advertisement found elsewhere in this paper. It will pay you to read it carefully, then send in your name at once.

RINGGOLD REVIVAL SERVICE SUCCESS

The revival services have been completed at the Ringgold church at which Rev. L. W. Green is the pastor. Rev. Boyd Rife of Newark preached the closing service at the little church Sunday evening.

Since the beginning of the revival meetings three weeks ago,
there have been 45 conversions
from the vicinity of Ringgold.

OFFENDERS TO SEVERAL LAWS GET HEARINGS

Four Cases Heard In Probate Court, One Before Squire
—All Fined.

Fines for intoxication, fines for driving while intoxicated, workhouse sentences, a fine for passing a school bus, and revoking drivers license for driving while intoxicated caused a stir of business in the Pickaway-co court house Monday afternoon, especially in Judge E. A. Brown's probate court. Of five offenders to the laws fined Monday, four were in probate court and one in Squire E. C.
Friece's court.

R. H. Abbott, of Columbus, who was arrested late Saturday night
on the Columbus-pk on a charge of operating a car while intoxicated was fined $500 and costs by Judge Brown. Abbott is in the county jail and will be sent to the Cincinnati workhouse until the fine and costs are paid.

O. D. Fuller of Chillicothe, who was arrested late Saturday night
by the Sheriff's office on Route 104 in Wayne-twp, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Brown for driving his car while intoxicated and his license to drive was revoked for six months. He made part payment of the fine and was released from custody after making arrangement to pay the remainder.

O. T. Hickman of Columbus, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of intoxication which was filed against him Saturday night by Deputy Fissell. He pleaded guilty when arranged before Judge Brown Monday and upon payment of the fine and costs was released.

Grace DeLong of Columbus, who was arrested Sunday by Davis for intoxication was fined $100 and costs when she pleaded guilty before Judge Brown. She made part payment of the fine and arranging to pay the remainder was freed.

Carl Bumgarner, Walnut-twp,
who was arrested a week ago by Deputy Miller Fissell and charged with driving past a parked school bus was fined $15 and costs when arranged before Squire E. C. Friece. He paid his fine and was released.

BEE-KEEPER AT KIWANIS

Carl Hurst, of Williamsport, Give Interesting Talk On Bee-keeping.

Carl Hurst, of near Williamsport, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday evening at the Boggs hotel and told in his very pleasing way of "Bees and Their Habits." Mr. Hurst is one of the foremost bee-raisers in Ohio and has come to be known as a very good authority on bee-keeping.

He told of the habits and the importance of the queen, of the detritment to the drone does to the hive. He quoted a number of figures concerning bee-keeping that were of high interest to the Kiwanians, stating that there are 80,000 bee-keepers in the United States with approximately 800,000 colonies. He said bee-keeping is

HARRY CLIFTON ASKS DAMAGES

Files Cross-Petition Against His Brother For Sum of $26,000.

Harry E. Clifton, local automobile dealer, filed a cross petition to the suit of Elmer Clifton, his brother, asking for damages in the sum of $26,000. The petition was filed through Harry Clifton's attorney, Richard Simkins, in common pleas court Tuesday.

The petition alleged three separate violations of the contract made in the dissolution of the Clifton Auto Sales Co., in January,
1926, in which Harry and Elmer Clifton were partners.

The cross-petition alleged that immediately after the dissolution of partnership in 1926, Elmer fraudulently obtained possession of the book of accounts and notes of the company and held them for a time damaging Harry Clifton in the sum of $1,000.

His second claim for damages
is based upon a claim that Elmer agreed not to interfere with the Buick agency in Pickaway-co for the period of a year from January, 1926, and that he caused the termination of the Buick agency with Harry Clifton and obtained it for himself, rendering valueless much of the equipment and accessories purchased by Harry Clifton from Elmer, for which Harry asks damages of $15,000.

His third claim is that Elmer agreed not to engage in the automobile business for the period of one year but in violation, the petition says, he did engage in the automobile business damaging Harry Clifton in the sum of $10,000.

SUSPECTS ARE HAGGARD FROM LONG GRILLING

In Meantime Searchers Again
Fail To Find Body of Lost Melvin Horst.

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 18.—"For God's sake why don't you come through clean?"

This was the question which Charles Hanna, 50, shakily asked his friend, Earl Connall, 42, as the two men faced each other in a room at the Wayne-co court house here today. Each accused the other of murdering 4-year-old Melvin Horst on the night of Dec.
27, 1928.

The "why don't you come clean" remark, was the climax of an all night session in which the two men had been questioned almost constantly by Detective Ora Slater. Prosecutor Marion Graven, Special Assistant Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey and Sheriff Clark Shearer.

Connall, his face drawn and haggard, showing the signs of the merciless grilling to which he had been subjected every day and night since Feb. 13, in connection with the alleged murder of Melvin, answered with an abrupt, "I do not know."

STICKS TO STORY

Connall still sticks to his signed statement in which he accused Hanna of murdering the lad.
Hanna is as persistent as his pal.
He declares that Connall killed
Melvin Horst for revenge against Roy Horst, former marshal at Orr-ville, an uncle of Melvin. Horst had been active against Connall, an alleged bootlegger.

Hanna faced his friend this morning, after both men had been questioned in relays since yesterday afternoon.

Connall apparently was unmoved by Hanna's request to "come through."

Hanna was then taken back to his cell at the jail, and the investigators tirelessly continued their "hammering away" at Connall, a former railroad brakeman. The officials said that they would concentrate their efforts on Connall

PRES. HOOVER WANTS SPEED

Tells Senate and House Leaders To Rush Tariff Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—President Hoover appealed to his party leadership in Congress, especially the senate, today to get together and speed up the general legislative program, now menaced by the log-jam in the senate over the tariff.

Assembling senate and house leaders around the White House breakfast table, the President canvassed the situation with them for nearly two hours, with particular emphasis upon the desirability of the senate's passage of the tariff bill at the earliest possible moment.

tariff law, the President is said to have pointed out, can only result in prolonging the apprehension of business generally, and contribute to unsettled conditions.

THE MAIN CHANCE TODAY'S

The main chance is today's chance. The wrecks along life's highway testify to that simple truth. It is right and good to look ahead, but the man who sees farthest is the man who keeps his eye on his job. It is splendid to have the urge to climb high. But the man who gets there is he who never takes his gaze from the finger holds in the sheer rock wall of his hard ascent.

Pitiful is it to see the broken hulk of a man lying at the base of life's mountain side and to know that he fell from high when success had turned his head.

Every day, in every field, we see these wrecks. And they point a moral that no man dare disregard. Life's work is, indeed, a climb and few and far between are the plateau lands upon which the breath-spent toiler may seek refreshment.

How many are the men, in private business or public concerns, who flushed with the zeal for great attainment, despite the smaller tasks which lead them to the goal. How often a man who uses a public office to gain high honor, awakes to the rude actuality that he has been weighed and found wanting in his simple trust. The key to great opportunity lies in proving true in the obscure, humble tasks of the present moment. The man who keeps ever in mind that his present job is his main job, that the present chance is the main chance, builds slowly, but surely, to broader trusts and greater achievements.

The builder knows that the higher he would rear his structure towards the heavens, the deeper and broader and stronger must be his foundation. The digging may be dull and tedious business, but without it there can be no lofty tower to challenge the eternal stars.

THE HOUSE GUEST

In recent years the term, house-guest, has come into popular usage and has almost reached the point where it can be written as one word. It may seem superfluous to speak of a guest being a house-guest, for where else would a guest be entertained? But, in view of the complications involved, there is justification for a particular name being applied to a visitor who remains for one or more nights. In fact, the entertainment of an ordinary guest differs from the entertainment of a house-guest as a feat of skill differs from an endurance test.

House-guests usually realize that their position is a bit awkward and endeavor to make amends by bringing candy to the children and demanding to be treated just as one of the family. The object of the host is to give the guest the impression that the treatment received is the sort the members of the family are accustomed to, and that there really were no elaborate preparations made for the visit. Of course, the house-guest is not told that members of the family are doubling up on the beds and that many drawers in the guest room had to be emptied into remote closets.

Many of the misgivings of the host to a house-guest. Will the children become incorrigible and shame their parents, knowing how loath parents are to inflict punishment in the presence of company? Will the house-guest discover that cream is on the table three times a day only when there is a guest in the house?

House-guests, however have one merit. They put all the members of the family on their good behavior, and even that is good for everyone once in a while.

ONE BOMBING AIRPLANE COULD DESTROY HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS DOLLARS WORTH OF FLOATING NAVAL ARMAMENT.

"MASTER of MONEY"

BY ROY VICKERS

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

ALAN BRENNAWAY, 35, has made a fortune. He asks Shirley Dane, beautiful, young, society girl to marry him. She refuses, being secretly engaged to Roger Kelton, young lawyer, in whose care she has placed her inheritance. Unknown to Shirley, Alan takes as collateral worthless shares in a Macedonian development which Roger agrees to investigate. After Roger and Shirley are married, Roger tells her Alan is a client of his and, therefore, he cannot refuse to go to Macedonia.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER XIII.

"YES—a thousand," he repeated uneasily. "I must say I think that that wallpaper isn't at all bad as it stands."

"It's a very good wallpaper," agreed Shirley. "But wallpaper tells everybody who comes here that we can't afford paneling. And that would cost us a great deal more than a thousand dollars."

"This policy of yours, you know—my father had it to a point and I'm not altogether sure that he made a success of it."

"He hadn't the need to study it properly," Shirley pointed out. "My father had to do it well. We had only the fifteen thousand I've got now and we went everywhere."

"Don't you remember what you said about Southampton costing a lot? It didn't cost us 500 dollars, and how much did you make over taking Gorston's advice?"

"Nearly fifteen hundred in nine days," he answered proudly. "Cynaz appointed you to three companies," she went on. "If we hadn't spent that money on Long Island none of that would have happened. So what about leaving the domestic arrangements in my hands, Roger?"

He looked at her, doubt in his eyes. She saw the doubt dissolve and give place to consciousness of her morning gown. Keeping his eyes upon her, he flung his cigarette into the grate.

"Have it your own way, sweetheart," he exclaimed. He strode towards her. His hand played over the lace at her throat. "I suppose I'm a sort of idiot sometimes, but I've only to talk to you and I'm ready to tilt at mountains. Give me a kiss before I go to the office—no, no, no, don't run away—you shall, you darling, you shall."

She had been kissed. He had left her in the utmost good humor, not knowing that she had not wanted to be kissed. Now she came to think of it he never noticed whether she wanted to be kissed. Perhaps it made no difference to him. Perhaps husbands were like that—unless one married a man like Alan, who, of course, could be quite impossible in every other way.

She turned to a mirror and looked at the morning gown that had diverted Roger from his doubt of her policy. It was of soft thick silk, the color of honey, opaque and smooth. Lane was used lavishly on it—old lace, a genuine point de Flandres that was yellow with time. Shirley couldn't quite remember what the price of the gown was going to be; the bill had not yet been presented.

There were many other bills that had not yet been presented. Every where there was that perfection of choice that cries aloud of wealth.

Shirley, shrugging a little, did not for a moment doubt her policy. For one thing, it was so familiar to her; her father had reared her on it. For another, it had, even in these few short weeks, proved it.

He left her in the utmost good humor, not knowing that she had not wanted to be kissed.

order. She lunched out and did some more shopping. When she got home, Alan was waiting for her in the drawing-room.

Again Alan was conscious of changes in Shirley. It was as if further touches had been added to a still unfinished painting of her. Before either of them had spoken he knew that all restraint had been removed.

"You look as if you had been expecting me," he said. "That's how I feel," she said spontaneously, and added: "I was not really expecting you, of course. But I've been thinking about you today. I want to have a good look at you. . . . You don't look ill."

"I'm not. I'm simply undergoing a rest-cure, which I've broken for no other reason than that I felt I must have a glimpse of you both. You, by the way, look tired."

"I've been shopping and I want my tea. Good! Here it is." "Go on being tired and let me pour out," he invited.

She watched him pour out the tea and was surprised at his deftness. She had always thought of him as fumbling at small things. "How can you know I don't take sugar?" she asked as he handed her the cup.

It was on the tip of his tongue to tell her that he remembered every incident of the tea they had had together over seven years ago, but he made no answer.

"And now tell me all about everything," he said as she leaned back with a sigh of contentment. She read his thought and laughed.

"You don't really want to hear about all the hotels, the scenery of Norway, the fun at Southampton, do you?" Own up.

"No," he laughed back. "Well, I think I'll tell you what you really want to know. On the whole I think I prefer being married to being single."

"I was really living in cotton-wool with Aunt Marion. But now I have to buckle to and think things out. I've spent three hours

Tuning in on the Talkies

by Watthill

AT last Shakespeare is getting out of date. He should have written, for these days: "All the world's a screen."

On and off the screen "The Love Swindle" continues wide-spread and unpunished.

"Viennese Nights" will be filmed during Hollywood days by Warner Bros. with Vitaphone translating the words of Oscar Hammerstein, Jr., and the music of Sigmund Romberg for this original opera.

Lois Moran will be Al Jolson's leading woman in "Mammy," his new minstrel show talkie.

"The Guilt of Silence" cannot be proven against the talkies.

She Has a Good Figure The movies ask "What's a Wife Worth?" and the time is at hand when hubby will find her cash value stated on his income-tax blank.

It's apt to be "Nobody's Baggage" when it springs an embarrassing leak.

Please Be Duly Informed "The Silent House" has been wired for talkies.

"Spillers of the West" throw refuse out of their motors.

"Oil and Romance" mix well in the prospectus of an oil stock promotion.

You'll Be Glad to Know That "God Gave Me 20 Cents" and the same movie took it away. That Barbara Kent will play the leading role in "Dumb-Bells in Ermine."

That John Barrymore has grown a beard to wear as "The Man From Blankley's."

That H. B. Warner makes a specialty of handling "Wedding Rings" in his new talkie.

Underweight Child Is Sick

Consider Him So, Advise Authority, and See That the Basic Fault Is Corrected.

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

MANY children go listlessly about, behind in their school work, burdened more than they should be by long hours of study and home work. It is a consequence they are unfit to do any task with profit and pleasure.

How about your child? Has his school report shown him behind in his studies? Does he seem tired and disinterested in what is going on around him? Is he underweight?

This question of underweight centers about a good many contributing cause. Perhaps the first thing to consider is whether or not he has any physical defects. Nobody but a doctor can tell you that. The child should have a thorough physical examination.

A healthy child is usually a happy one. Such a child should be able to maintain his school standing, and in later life to make his way in the world. Without good health, this is an impossibility.

If your child is underweight he is a sick child. He must be kind and firmly taught the right habits of living, of eating, sleep and recreation.

Any physical defects should be corrected. That goes without saying.

At midday, after his luncheon, he should have an hour of rest in bed, in a dark room, sleeping if possible.

The child needs plenty of out-of-doors, in fact he should be outdoors every minute of daylight after school hours. He must have fresh air and sunshine, all that is possible. Nothing will bring him back to health so quickly.

As he gains in weight and strength, he will of his own accord get enough exercise in play. Soon his appetite should return, his eyes grow brighter, and as his physical vigor grows, so, too, will his mental powers increase.

After all, health comes first of all in importance. The underweight child must be considered as a sick child. He should not be found fault with, but firmly and kindly guided in right living habits. When his day has been reorganized, and he has had time to build up his bodily functions, it will be worth untold riches to have him again in good health. It will be a joy to know that his depleted condition has been turned into one of sound bodily vigor.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA

Maurice Chevalier, who has become the greatest European actor to achieve success in American films since Emil Jannings, will be seen and heard in his most gorgeous picture to date, "The Love Parade" at the Cliftona Theatre Tuesday.

"The Love Parade" is something different in all-talking musical film productions, just as Chevalier is a personage entirely different from all other screen types.

In the first place "The Love Parade" was written for the audible screen. It is not a film version of any previous stage production, it was created expressly for the screen and with the idea of the screen's values for amusement uppermost in the minds of the geniuses who created it.

In the second place "The Love Parade" was directed by Ernest Lubitsch, who was named by vote of critics in a poll taken by Film Daily as the foremost director in the movie industry. He has never turned out a failure. One of his greatest pictures was "The Patriot."

Heading the supporting cast of "The Love Parade" is Jeanette MacDonald, lovely Philadelphia girl who made a rapid climb in musical comedy through two or three years of hard work abetted by a personal charm and beauty that just wouldn't allow her to stay in obscurity. This is her first all-talking production. She made such a great hit in it that Paramount immediately signed her on a contract for other films. She has been described as "the girl with the red-gold hair and sea-green eyes." She possesses a lovely soprano voice, has an exquisite figure and a personal charm seldom found in a personage so generously endowed with those other qualities.

AT THE GRAND

The all-talking Fox Movietone comedy of love, laughter and jewel thieves in Havana, the Paris of America, "The Girl From Havana" appears at the Grand Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lola Lane and Paul Page play the leading parts and do their stuff to perfection.

THAT some people should look before they leap; others should look before they weep. Too many people hunt trouble, while others consider work trouble and spend much valuable time avoiding it.

Many people hoiler before they are hurt; they make false reasonings and come to false conclusions. Many people are careless, and a few even lazy. Some are a little "stuck up" and feel as though they are a little better than their neighbors. A few are too proud to work. It takes all kinds of people to make a city.

Then you can find the boosters, the citizens who know the truth when they see it, who use every effort to wake up other citizens, who can do things, and get them busy.

Every slumbering citizen who is boosted into becoming a progressive citizen is a new unit that can be used in the building of a city. Every dollar invested in a city means a new dollar enlisted in the service of that city.

Every dollar spent with home-owned concerns stays to work in the community.

PROGRESSIVE CITIZENS. AIDED BY DOLLARS. ARE WHAT IS NEEDED TO KEEP A COMMUNITY PROGRESSIVE.

Says Sam: There are these consultations about life: it can't last forever, and on the other hand, it isn't so attractive that it doesn't last long enough.

When Food Sours
Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

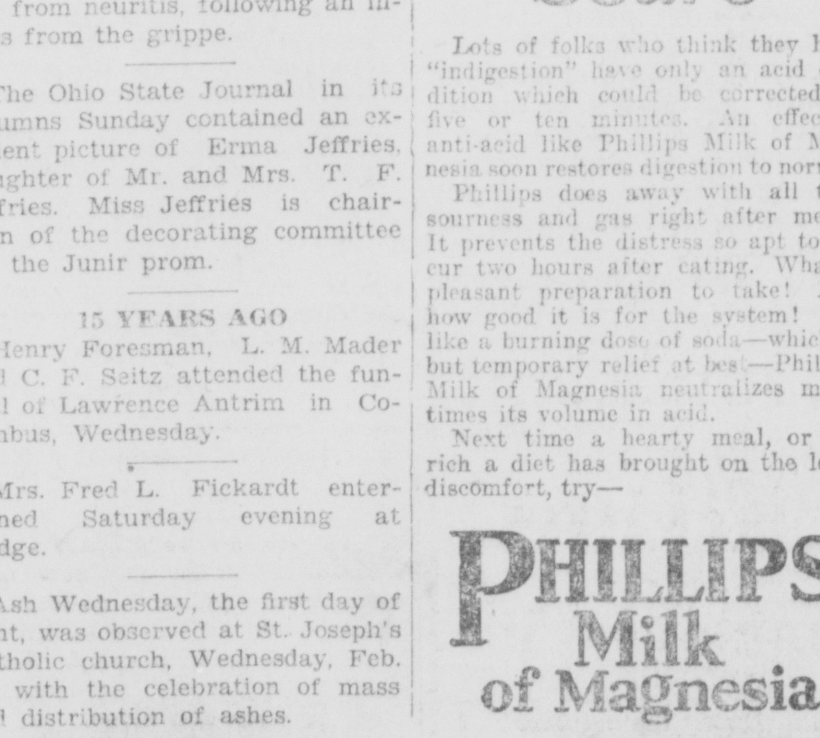

Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

PHILLIPS Milk of Magnesia

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

Next time a hearty meal, or too rich a diet has brought on the least discomfort, try—

JOY WALKS

By LESLIE L. FONTIUS

Is there anything so utterly odious as a rain cloud when you have planned a picnic? Out of the purview of respectability, I disclaim to disclose my thoughts and feelings when I retired, because it was raining and I had planned a picnic for the next day. On awakening the following morning, I listened for the sound of rain but heard instead the love song of a song sparrow; the sun was shining and my disgust of the night before, changed to a joyful anticipation.

We, Floyd Bartley and I, had been told of a place where rhododendron grew and we wanted to see it. Leaving our machine parked at the filling station at the entrance to Arch Cave, we plodded a slippery and tortuous road leading back to Moore Hollow. Joy Hollow is picturesque and graphic, but Moore Hollow is a perfect Eden of beauty, singularly attractive and exquisitely shaped. Moore Hollow is more of a canyon than a hollow and the colors of those rocky cliffs rival the rainbow. Surely, Jack Frost must come here to wipe the paint off of his brushes, when the fall painting is done. The ground has thawed just enough to be slippery and the climb up the steep slope to the base of the cliff was an arduous task. The path along the base of the cliff could not be followed without danger because the balmy weather was bringing the icicles down with a crash, and one was likely to be pinned to the earth with a javelin of ice.

We thought we could save time if we worked separately, so Bartley chose the right slope and I the left. Bartley was looking for rhododendron; I wasn't so particular; therefore, I didn't progress as fast as he. The first thing I knew Bartley came up the slope and was trailing me, and in reply to my inquiry, if he had been to the end of the hollow, gave me a knowing smile and suave, "No." We went on.

Mingled with the rank odor of the decaying autumn leaves was the odor of wood smoke. We stopped and looked—a blue cloud of smoke was curling up through the trees close to the foot of the falls, but no fire was to be seen, and Bartley wanted to know if there was a house down there. Guided by our desire, we went on expecting at every step to hear the command, "Halt!" or the whizz of a bullet. There was not a sound—save the crashing of timber and the splash of water as it plunged over the falls. We became nonchalant and slid down the slope, crossed the stream on rotten ice, and boldly climbed the opposite slope to the foot of the cliff and took refuge behind a huge rock. After resting awhile and mustering up our courage, we cautiously peered through a crevice in the rock and to our surprise and chagrin, we discovered a tree on fire. Some vandal had started a fire in the hollow stem with the hope of smoking out a "coon."

At the mouth of the hollow was an Alder swamp, in which there were several pitch pine trees, trying to adapt themselves to a new location. The Pines do not like to be crowded, so they move to a place where the other trees do not find conditions suitable to their development.

The Arbutus is a shade and rock loving plant, preferring to grow on the well drained hill-sides; but here under one of the pines was a clump of Arbutus, that had gotten tired of its location and was migrating to a promised land. The pines were shielding it from the sun's rays and were dropping their needles, as if building a bridge for it to walk on. Thus Nature works in harmony.

The Laurel has an antipathy for water as contemptible as a cat's, yet here was a whole colony deliberately wading the swamp. They, too, were hunting a new home.

Remember This—Every Day You Participate in the Campaign, It is Worth Money to You!

Every contestant who secures 100 new subscribers from Feb. 17 to April 16, will be given a special ballot calling for 500,000 votes, and the FIRST candidate to sell 100 new subscriptions will be given an additional 100,000 votes. Should any one candidate sell but 50 new subscriptions a ballot of 200,000 votes will be given. This in addition to the regular votes given for subscriptions. This should not be lost sight of, for votes alone will win these prizes.

CASH FOR NEW SUBSCRIBERS WEEKLY

In order to make the campaign entirely self-supporting it has been decided to pay each candidate for the new subscribers each week as follows:

PICKAWAY COUNTY SQUADS PREPARE FOR TOURNAMENT

Pickaway-co basketball coaches are holding long, hard practice sessions this week for just one reason. Can that reason be guessed?

The annual county basketball tournament starts Friday evening in the local C. A. C. gymnasium and the winner of that tourney must play the best basketball they can possibly produce, for the tourney this year promises to be the greatest Pickaway-co has ever seen.

The result in the boys contest is a literal toss-up and the same thing can be said of the frays in which the girls will take part.

Even the coaches are not saying a word of their expectations in this meet for they well know that the team which wins the tourney must turn aside opposition of the sternest type. The tourney starts at 7:30 p. m. Friday evening with four games to be played that evening.

The first boys game is scheduled between the Williamsport undefeated quintet and Mühlenberg. The first girls contest will see the battlers from Williamsport tangling with Scioto.

Williamsport boys, according to dope, should win their contest with Mühlenberg, but if the past game which Mühlenberg forced into an overtime period can be used as a criterion anything can happen.

Mühlenberg was on in that contest and Williamsport was not hitting with their usual ability, and who knows but what the same thing may happen when the two teams meet for this all-important battle.

Jackson and Pickaway will provide the fireworks in the second Friday evening tiff and plenty of fireworks will be the result of the skirmish between these two organizations.

The other girls game Friday evening will be between Jackson and Walnut, and according to past records, Walnut should cop.

Added impetus has been added to the tournament this year with the announcement that The Circleville Herald is giving a cup to the winners of the meet in each the boys and girls section.

These cups, which in reality are huge basketballs, on which will be the name of the winning team inscribed, will be given immediately following the final game on the night of March 1.

With this being the first time in the history of the tournament that a newspaper has offered such honors to the winning teams, much interest has already been manifested in the good-will of The Circleville Herald.

ACCOUNTING TO BE SUBJECT

O. S. U. To Work With Farm Bureau On Farm Accounting Program.

A county wide accounting school will be conducted through the co-operation of the farm management department of the Ohio State University and the Pickaway-co farm bureau, provided a sufficient number of farmers are interested in this project.

Farm accounts afford the best gauge through which a farmer may determine profits which are being realized from his farm operations. An analysis of farm accounts will show the returns which the laying flock, the dairy cow, for a dollar's worth of grain and hogs and beef cattle are yielding.

Some farmers produce hogs profitably and let the cows and chickens through unprofitable management wipe out the profits made on his porkers.

Farm accounts show that it costs to produce corn per bushel. Farm accounts also tell the farmer what he makes as a labor income.

J. C. Neff, farm management specialist of Ohio State University will assist County Agent H. S. Lewis, in conducting a farm account school at the farm bureau home on Wednesday, Feb. 26 from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Every farmer interested is welcome to attend this school.

BLAZE IN CHIMNEY DOES $10 DAMAGE

The fire department was called to Clinton and Half-ave Tuesday morning where a house owned by Mrs. I. N. Abernethy, had caught fire from a defective flue. The damage amounted to about $10. Davey Fields, colored, occupies the house.

COMBING OF ENTIRE STATE PRODUCES MANY RESULTS

Combining of the state by inspectors of the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles, in order to improve present conditions in transportation by bus of school children attending centralized schools, is producing results far beyond the expectation of state officials in charge of the drive.

Grace crossing crashes at Shreve, Berea and other points in Ohio had focused attention on the evident need of drastic measures. Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown's order to Commissioner Chalmers R. Wilson to drop all other activities and place all inspectors available on a state-wide check of every school bus and school bus driver is being obeyed to the letter under adverse conditions.

With less than 25 inspectors available to cover the 88 counties of the state Chief Inspector Culbert reports that more than half the centralized school districts of the state have been visited, equipment inspected and the drivers examined for license.

Daily reports of these inspectors show that conditions in the districts visited are far better than at first expected. Several districts have shown exceedingly high percentages of efficiency. The Fremont school district, in Sandusky-co, at present leads the state with a 100 per cent showing both as to buses and drivers. Several others come close behind this wave-washed county.

The outstanding benefit so far accruing from the campaign has been the uncovering of overloaded and inadequately equipped buses. On this development of the drive the attention of the authorities in several counties is now being centered.

At Berea, Cuyahoga-co, where a mile-a-minute flyer snuffed out the lives of 16 school children last month overloading buses to a

O. S. U. LOSES TO ILLINOIS

Buckeyes Lead at Half 12-8 But Are Held Basketless In Last Half.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 18.—Trailing at the half, 12 to 8, the Illinois basketball squad held the Ohio State quintet basketless in the second half and went into undisputed third place in the western conference, by virtue of its 26-to-16 victory over the Buckeyes here last night.

The play was slow and ragged in the first half. The start of the second half saw the Illini launched into an offensive that a rush of six substitutes in the Buckeye lineup could not stop. Four charity tosses was the best the bucks could get in the second canto.

Every man on the Illini team scored. Kamp, Illinois forward, captured high point honors, by sinking 5 field goals.

Evans for Ohio State, netted six points and Fesler accounted for five.

WILDCATS WIN IN BIG TEN

Relentless Offensive of Northwestern Stumps Minnesota, 47-17.

EVANSTON, ILL., Feb. 18.—Using an offensive that proved relentless, Northwestern University's basketball team today had given Minnesota its sixth Western Conference defeat of the year, winning by a 47-to-17 score.

The first half, closing with a 21-to-12 score, saw a fairly close contest with Minnesota doing a lot of accurate firing from under the basket last night.

In the second half it was a different story with Northwestern's scoring machine making up for lost efforts of past games. Riel Lockhart and Walter led in Northwestern's scoring with 16 of Northwestern's 19 baskets.

The game left Northwestern in sixth place in the conference standing and Minnesota in seventh position.

treatment may make the applicant acceptable. Co-operation of eye and ear specialists on the faculty of the College of Medicine, Ohio State University, has been sought and is now being put to work. Several drivers whose vision was below grade are now back at work with properly fitted glasses, giving them renewed opportunity to hold their jobs.

The loss of an arm, leg or eye is without correction, even mechanically, in the eyes of the law for driving purposes and sets such unfortunate applicants on the ground immediately. One-armed and one-legged drivers who have been operating school buses efficiently for years are let out automatically by this ruling.

Dry Leader Before House Committee

Dr. Norris G. Wood, national organizer of the Congressional Districts Modification League and former educational director for the Rhode Island Anti-Saloon League, as he testified before the House Judiciary Committee. Several ardent wets, as well as dries, were heard by the committee, which is using the information in connection with the new bills providing for the modification, and in one case the abolition, of the dry laws.

CARNERA WINS ANOTHER BOUT

Italian Banks More Dollars As He Pushes Chicagoan Over.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 18.—Primo Carnera, Italian man-mountain, banked some more American dollars today and counted his fifth kayo victory since he first placed his No. 21 shoes on United States soil a few weeks ago. After one minute and 45 seconds in the second round last night he slipped the ether to John Erickson, Chicago heavyweight.

Erickson probably put up the best fight of any of the ring novices the Italian has battled in his tour of the country. He fought gamely in the first round and landed several blows but they didn't seem to bother the rushing Venetian, who was very busy himself flinging rights and lefts at the Chicagoan's head and body.

He floored Erickson twice in succession before the Swedish boxer took the 10-count, Erickson taking the count of nine each time in the first two knockdowns.

DALEY EDGES GEO. SIMPSON

Holy Cross Meteor Dashes 60 Yards In Record Time In New York Event.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—James Daley of Holy Cross college took a frant row niche among track stars today. He defeated the famed George Simpson of Ohio State last night in the 60-yard dash at the annual New York A. C. games in Madison Square Garden.

Daley's time was 0.06 and 3-5. Simpson, who traveled 190 yards faster than any human in June, 1929 when he registered 9 2-5 seconds' time, finished second and A. Niles Schoening of Columbia, was third.

DIPHTHERIA IS VERY DANGEROUS

Diphtheria is a dangerous and contagious disease of the throat and nose. It is caused by germs. These germs make sore spots and develop a poison which gets into the system and may weaken the heart or cause heart failure. Besides serious heart trouble, diphtheria may leave its victim paralyzed. A dangerous operation on the throat is sometimes necessary to help the child breathe. Diphtheria causes the death of many children, especially those under five years of age.

3 GAMES ON CLUB COURT

U. S. Infantry To Play Club; Gordons Meet Walnut; Clouds Vs. Lutherans.

C. A. C. Gymnasium will resound with the blast of a referee's whistle again Thursday evening when the 166th U. S. Infantry of Columbus invades the local hardwood for a contest with the C. A. C.

After seeing the game between the Club quintet and the New Lexington five last week it is expected that a large crowd will be on hand when the two teams go onto the floor for their tilt.

Two other contests have been listed for this evening.

The first will see the Gordon Tires mixing with the Walnut Tigers. The Tigers defeated the Flying Clouds just last Thursday when they played fairly good basketball and should give the Gordons a fast tussle although the superior height of the Gordons will probably give them an advantage.

The game which will just precede the Club affair will see the Clouds meeting the Lutheran Brotherhood in their second contest of the season.

In the first meeting of the two teams the Brotherhood defeated the Clouds when Marvin Rhoades connected for several over-the-head shots from the corner. Just enough to take the game from the Clouds.

The first scrap will start at 7 P. M.

The bride-groom is the son of Mrs. John Arledge with whom the couple will make their home for the present, on the corner of Clinton and Ohio-sts.

HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Chester Goeller of Columbus was an out-of-town guest on Monday night when Miss Besse Fry of S. Court-st entertained her bridge club. Three tables were arranged for the card game with top score favors being awarded to Mrs. Allen Thornton, Miss Ethel Rife and Miss Winifred Parrett.

A delectable lunch was served at the tables after the game. Mrs. Harold Grant will be the next hostess in two weeks.

W. C. T. U. HAS MEETING

The Tarlton Women's Christian Temperance Union held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Val Valentine, on Friday, February 14th.

The meeting opened by singing, "How Firm a Foundation" followed by the reading of the Scriptures Proverb, 31st chapter, 10 through the 31st verses, by the president, and prayer by Mary Porter.

The song "Lead Kindly Light" was then sung, and the following leaflets read, "Frances Willard as a Young Girl," "America's Uncrowned Queen," Newspaper Tribute to Frances Willard.

"Both temperance and the political advancement of women are deeply indebted to Miss Willard" was the thought contained in the papers" and "but so is that still more essential principle that character building comes first of all in the education scheme. The story of her life cannot be read with full understanding except as includes the social contrasts the witnessed during her life."

The meeting closed with the W. C. T. U. benediction.

During the social hour, the hostess served refreshments.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Mrs. William Haynes delightfully entertained with a one o'clock luncheon at her home in Frankfort on last Saturday, the occasion being the announcement of the approaching marriage of her granddaughter, Alice Christine Maddux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright P. Maddux, and Howard Ater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cash Ater of Clarksville.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served at one large table, centered with a beautiful basket of red carnations, and three small tables adorned with red carnations in crystal holders. At each place was a red heart containing the announcement of the happy event, and dainty nut basket favors. Red hearts were festooned about the room symbolizing the sweet romance of Valentine day.

The guests who enjoyed the happy occasion were: The Misses Mary Louise Lockwood, Nelle Carr Dora Carr, Anna Hanley, Norma Henson, Edna Ruth Williams, Alice Christine Maddux and Mesdames Fred Putnam, Ward Smith, Ina Cory, Maurice Ward, E. J. Steele, Forest Sheely, Anna Maddux and W. P. Maddux, all of Frankfort, O. and Mrs. Cash Ater of Clarksville, O. Mrs. Frank Haynes and Miss Mary Louise Haynes of Kingston, O. Mrs. Lawrence Orr, Mrs. Alfred Gartner, and Mrs. Dayton Lewis of Chillicothe, O.

DR. MAXFIELD SPEAKS ON NORMAL CHILDREN

Extremely interesting, especially to mothers and school teachers, was the lecture Monday night given at the Monday club meeting, by Dr. M. F. Maxfield of the psychology department of Ohio State University. He spoke on the problems of normal childhood, in a manner easily understandable and equally easy to agree with.

Some of his interesting statements were startling, such as "A child's intelligence is fully developed at the age of two," "That no child is born bad, and no child is really bad, that a youngster naturally left handed should never be taught to write with his right hand and that he must be taught to tell the truth most of the time."

Dr. Maxfield, who has a strong personality himself, and seems consumed with nervous energy, says there is a distressingly small number of children born, with dispositions and innate ability to push ahead, and to conquer new fields.

Dr. Maxwell, a personable speaker, indicated that in this age, the sensible procedure was for all children to psychoanalyze. He also said, that many, many men and women were plodding along in the wrong groove, because they had never been properly sounded out for their ability in other lines.

FAMILY DINNER ON SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rader were hosts Sunday to a family dinner at their home on S. Washington-st. Their guests were W. H. Voll and J. P. Kirwin of Marietta, O. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Snyder of Greenville, Mrs. Nell Snider, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kirwin, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Kirwin, E. L. Voll and Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson of Chillicothe.

TROPHY DISPLAYED

ODDS AND ENDS FROM 'ROUND THE TOWN

Our genial dairyman, John Neuding, says that although the milk he delivers is from contented cows—one glance at the stock market reports will reveal a whole barn-yard full of discontented bulls.

Everybody who saw that great tallie, "Sunny Side Up" were all excited about the "Turn On The Heat" number. From ice fields to tropical warmth in three minutes! But then, Harry Hosler claims that's not so sensational after all. "They could have cut a full minute off that record," he says, "if they'd used my Estate Heatrola."

All of which naturally suggests the irrevocable fact that March is still ahead of us, with a big reputation to uphold. If history repeats (and who shall deny that it doesn't?), storms, blizzards and all their unpleasant companions are on the program. Which means that the time to insure health and comfort was never more propitious than right now. Let's follow that old Heatrolatown custom and install a Heatrola in your home!

Did you hear the sad story about Bert Thomas, a charter member of the Insomnia Club? He claimed that Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep on the mattress on his bed. So we sold him a Lady-Faire (Inner Spring) Mattress and now Bert says he doesn't care if morning NEVER comes.

"Why so downcast, old man?" "Well, I put an ad in a matrimonial paper as a joke." "That doesn't sound sad." "But my girl answered it."

We pause momentarily to announce that this is Stevenson's, a home town organization—ready to give you good merchandise, good service, in the satisfaction of a square deal, at prices as moderate as a day in May.

Frank Marion dropped in to tell us about the bride who went home to Mother, because at breakfast the groom set the coffee pot on one of her waffles thinking it was an asbestos pad.

The moral to that story is—learn to cook before you cook. Of course, Mrs. S. T. Rife will tell you that cookery is an easy matter with an Estate Gas Range. The Fresh Air Oven insures perfect results every time. Come in and let us tell you all about it.

HOMER HANDY'S HINT
Homemade Starch—Water in which rice has been boiled, with a few drops of turpentine added, makes an excellent starch which can be used either hot or cold.

Planning on refurbishing your home? We don't demand that you buy your merchandise here, but come in and make a comparison between our goods and that of our contemporaries. And then let your good judgment be your guide.

We're always "tooting" our horn about the good baking qualities of the Estate Gas Ranges. Perhaps, some of you folks think that we are only "blowing". But, if you could have heard the nice things that Mrs. Belle Heffner, of "The Wellington", said to us the other day about the Estate range that we sold to her some time ago, you'd know that we really had a right to brag.

Mother—"This letter from Charlie is very short." Father—"Yes, and so is Charlie or he wouldn't have written."

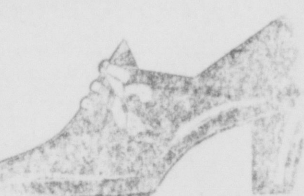

Speaking of Estate Gas Ranges reminds us that we have an especially interesting offer to make to you right now. You've often looked at your old fashioned gas range and hoped that the time would soon come when you would own one of the new type table ranges, with an oven heat control.

Well, right now is a good time to provide yourself with a modern Estate gas range, with Therm Estate oven heat control, for the price of a range without the control. While our present stock of Estate Gas Ranges of the number 2800 line lasts, we will make you a gift of the ThermEstate. That means a savings of $16.00. We'd suggest that you look into this matter right now—before we dispose of them to some one else.

NOTICE TO HOUSEWIVES: You've often observed how scarce the men become when it comes time to take the mattress out for an airing? Well, you won't have to get out a search warrant for a man to carry out a heavy mattress any more if you will equip your beds with the SPRING-AIR Mattress. It can be taken out in sections by any woman or girl. The ticking may be removed for washing, and the springs washed with the hose. Easily cleaned? We believe it to be the most sanitary mattress on the market, besides being wonderfully comfortable. Why not drop in and let us show you this new bedding? You've seen it advertised in the Saturday Evening Post; we can show you the real thing.
